

Khomiakov D.O.

Adjunct of Scientific-Organizational Department, Military Institute, Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv

LEGAL ASPECTS OF ACTIVITIES OF THE SUBJECTS OF INTERNATIONAL TRANSFERS OF MILITARY GOODS

The article considers a problem of the legal aspects of activities of the subjects of international transfers of military goods. The author proposes a number of measures for Ukraine to expand arms markets.

For Ukraine, as for any other new state, a period of sovereignty was linked to the urgent solution to the whole package of theoretical and practical problems. One of the most urgent and most important of them is the search for opportunities to increase foreign exchange earnings in the country's budget, very important for rebuilding the economy and Ukraine's crisis recovery. At the same time, important are measures for the development, processing, and practical implementation of the adequate new foreign policy of Ukraine, including the distribution of market relations in the import and export of military products and dual-use goods.

That said, the analysis of works of scientists allows concluding that Ukrainian specialists developed only economic and political aspects of international trade in military and dual-use goods, and some aspects of the existing system of export controls, whereas issues of legal regulation of international transfers of military goods are not disclosed.

Taking into consideration of the existing situation, there is a need for the research of activities of international transfers of military goods. On the basis of the relevance of the theme rendered in the article title, making no claims to cover comprehensively all aspects of that topic, the author set out to reveal the main problematic aspects concerning the improvement of the legal framework of activities for subjects of international transfers of military goods.